

Different Ways to Make Digital Payments

Contactless payment 	Contactless payment systems are credit cards and debit cards, key fobs, smart cards, or other devices, including smartphones and other mobile devices through radio-frequency identification or near communication for making secure payments.
PayPal 	Check out faster, safer and more easily with PayPal, the service that lets you pay, send money, and accept payments without having to enter your financial details each time. 173 million people use PayPal to shop on millions of sites worldwide, in 202 countries and with 21 different currencies.
Bank Transfer 	A bank transfer is when money is sent from one bank account to another. Transferring money from your bank account is usually fast, free and safer than withdrawing and paying in cash.
Direct Debit 	A Direct Debit or direct withdrawal is a financial transaction in which one person withdraws funds from another person's bank account.

Standing Order 	A standing order is an instruction a bank account holder gives to their bank to pay a set amount at regular intervals to another's account. The instruction is sometimes known as a banker's order. They are typically used to pay rent, mortgage or any other fixed regular payments.
NFC (Near-field communication) 	Near-field communication is a set of communications between two devices by two electronic devices when they are brought together secure. Different phones will have NFC technology! Apple's has its own version, 'Apple Pay' and Google has 'Google Wallet'. It is technology the same thing.
PayPoint 	Store payment services for consumers, retailer services as well as secure mobile & online multi-channel payment solutions i.e. for topping up your fuel.
Get Cash Banking app 	Get Cash is a function of your mobile banking app that lets you withdraw money quickly without using your bank card. It's great for those times when you forget your card and don't have cash on you.